Travel

The ORTUS learning and events centre is a few minutes' walk from Denmark Hill rail station with frequent direct connections to central London, plus an extensive local bus network. It is easily accessible from several key points in Greater London. It is just 10 minutes by direct train journey from Victoria or Blackfriars.

By rail or underground

Denmark Hill station is on South-eastern lines from Victoria to Dartford and from Blackfriars to Sevenoaks. It is also served by London Overground. Direct links to Victoria and Blackfriars are both 10 minutes travel time. There are also links to Canada Water for the Jubilee Line (12 minutes), Lewisham for the DLR (13 minutes), Farringdon (16 minutes) and St Pancras for Kings Cross (20 minutes).

By foot

From Denmark Hill Station, turn left out of the station and walk for 200m until you reach Grove Lane. Then turn left onto Grove Lane and ORTUS is about 200m on the left. If you reach the primary school, you have gone too far. The ORTUS building is just before the primary school and can be accessed via the black iron gates.

By bus

Routes 40, 42, 68 (24 hrs) 176 (24 hrs), 185, 468, 484 all stop nearby.

By road

If you need to travel by car from central London follow the A215 from the Elephant and Castle. Grove Lane is off Denmark Hill where the Maudsley Hospital and King's College London are situated.
